

I think that cell phone use during a flight should not be allowed for the following reasons:

1. It has not been proven that there is no interference with the pilot's control of the airplane.
2. Terrorists could communicate vital information with each other and cause another 9-11.
3. For flight attendants to have to monitor and caution people to keep their voices down and not disturb other passengers will only heighten the level of tension already present on the flight--with fear of flying, alcohol, "aggravated" passengers, and overall discomfort with flying it could be the "straw that breaks the back" of a passenger. Flight attendants already have numerous security and normal duties and at reduced staffing. If cigarette lighters are now prohibited, cell phones seem to have an even greater risk.
